WHY PAYING FOR YOUR NANNY'S ATTENDANCE IS AN INVESTMENT IN YOUR FAMILY

iNNTD: Improving the Standard of Care in the Nanny Community

iNNTD is an initiative organized by Nannypalooza to promote awareness of the meaningful connection between nanny training and quality of care. While this is usually a local event hosted around the world by various organizations and agencies because of COVID-19 this year, Nanny Posse will be hosting a virtual event on Saturday, September 12th.

We will join with speakers and nannies from across the country for this memorable training event. Nanny Posse has worked hard to create an event with relevant topics, expert presenters and ample networking opportunities.

Want to invest in your child's quality of care while also showing your nanny that you appreciate the work they do in your home? Then we suggest that you consider covering the cost of this event for your nanny. It's a small investment with a big payoff. Study after study shows that caregivers who receive ongoing training consistently provide higher quality care and are happier in their jobs.

When your nanny attends iNNTD they...

- Connect with a network of local experts and professional veterans.
- Get inspired by new ideas and techniques.
- Take part in care development that focuses on in-home care.

Don't miss out! Sponsor your nanny's attendance at iNNTD: Chapel Hill and give them the wonderful gift of professional development while also investing in quality care for your family.
